The Lloyds.

The Lloyds.

In this issue we call special attention to the advertisement of the Lloyds Fire and Marine Insurance Co. Mr. Fred Clav is the agent for Abbeville County, and Mr. W. F. Cross special agent. Mr. Clay is organizing as rapidly as possible the sub-agency system, so that at each postoffice of any prominence in the county the Lloyds will be represented by a good hustling agent.

hastling agent.

We feel safe in saying that the Lloyds's interests will be carefully looked after by Mr. Clay. The great saving feature that this company offers will be most thoroughly placed before the people.

Many of our most prominent Abbeville merchants have lately insured in the Lloyds.

EDITOR JAMES T. BECON, of Edgefield, will iver a lecture in Greenwood next Thurs-y night.

ONE bunch of keys lost with a steel chain attached. A suitable reward will be given by the Press and Banner.

OLD SOLDIER GONE.

John McMahan of Antreville Joins the Silent Majority.

John McMahan of Antreville who had passed his three-score and ten died last Sunday and was buried at Rocky River church. He was an excellent soldier in the late war, and was a member of the 19th Regiment, The ranks of the soldiers in the Lost Cause are being thinned, and it will not be a great while before there will only be a few of us left. The youngest soldiers who enlisted in the army in 1861 must now be fifty years of age.

THE LITERARY CLUB.

The Abbeville Literary Club met last Friday night at the home of Mr. R. M. Haddon, where he entertained the members in a sumptuous manner. The essayist of the evening tuous manner. The essayist of the evening was Mr. Templeton, who gave us a most entertaining paper on "Definitions"

The night was stormy, the ground was covered by a deep snow, and sleet was failing. On this account the attendance was not large, but those who did go had a most enjoyable evening. It was one of our most pleusant meetings

Eyes Examined.

Many people have weak eyes or see badly and in consequence have headaches and inflamed eye iids without knowing the cause. Mr. R. C. Bernau, the jeweier, who is also a graduate optician, has just finished up a private room for the examination of the eyes and for fitting spectacles. He makes no charge for the fitting and if you have any trouble with your eyes you had better see him at once and have them properly fitted.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

About Constitutional Convention. Four Cents Cotton, Fertilizers. Hog and Hominy.

Mr. Editor: Much concern is now being mainfested about the Constitutional Conven-tion-forgetting or neglecting too much the agricultural interest—the very life and supagricultural interests—the very life and sup-port of a country. As to the propriety of this Convention, time will tell, but one thing cer-tain, it will incur expenses that must be met by taxistion, which will be more and more burdensome on every professional pursuit in proportion to the prosperity or failure of the firm.

However, it will be, the politician said, we, the people, needed it, and as Governor Evans argued in his campaign speech at Abbeville, "no matter what it costs," we believe it and its demands or costs will be met at all hazards cotton sells for ic. No doubt an effort will a made to drop more plums in cousin's bas-the made to drop more plums in cousin's basket.

If ever there was an era in the history of this country when the people needed wise pranning and home-made thinking that time confronts us now. Cotton, the money crop, is now below par, and under the present system of farming, it will continue so, until necessity brings about a change. It seems to be the growing power of all professional pursuits and most especially should it govern all calculations and obligations of the agricultural class; otherwise it will be a mere matter of time when there will be a financial wreck. In fact some claim the "wolf is nearing the door" now. Cotton sold for less than it cost to raise it, and not enough of "hog and hominy at home." The latter is the secret of the whole mystery.

whole mystery.

Our leaders have often promised relief, but no relief; other promises are like pie crust easily broken and of no avail. More self counsel is needed and not so much reliance upon others that are not identified with our mendable Organization — Deserves to Live Forever.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Farmers Matual Fire Association of Abbeville county. This company is conducted upon the assessment plan, and has $80,000 worth of property insured in this county. The average assessment for the past two years has not exceeded $1.75 on the $1,000 of property insured.

Having no salaried officers, and managed by efficient husiness men, the company commends fixelf to all property holders for its cheapness and reliability. Every dollar handled by the association remains in the community, instead of being sent abroad, as in old line companies. There is some interest manifested by the business public as to the effort to adopt this mode of insurance Will it be adopted by the country people? Can they or will they stand togenher for the protection of a material interest? We shall see.

We understand the president will soon call a meeting of the directors for the purpose of reassessing property in cases where values have depreciated.

JAILED PRISONERS.

Roll Call of Abbeville's Contingent.

Through the courtesy of Sheriff Nance, than whom Abbeville has never had a more efficient officer, we are indebted for the following the country and the president of the following the country and wear, and yet our meat and grain houses are in the west, and last, but not least, out fertilizer or compost pens in Charleston or elsewhere rather than at home. This might house are in the west, and last, but not least, out fertilizer or compost pens in Charleston or elsewhere rather than at home. This might house are in the west, and last, but not least, out fertilizer or compost pens in Charleston or elsewhere rather than at home. This might house are in the west, and last, but not least, out fertilizer or compost pens in Charleston or elsewhere rather than at home. This might house are in the west, and last, but not least, out fertilizer or compost pens in Charleston was ling the ween cotton was king, but circumstances alter cases, and now we m No one can deny, everything considered,

It still takes 50 pounds cotton to pay for 200 pounds guano. Now at first this seems plansible, when we remember the old adage that "figures don't lie," but time for reflection and we are convinced that they can be made to deceive. For instance, some two years ago estiton was sold for Sc per pound and guano for $26 per ton. A bale of cotton, (450 pounds) then brought $36, which overpaid for a ton of guano by $10. Now it is qui're different. A bale of best cotton, (450 pounds) at 5c per pound brings $22.50 and guano at $25 per ton as the Wardo Co npany offer theirs, would leave a balance unpaid of $2.50. A difference then and now of $12.50 against the poanter. How does that strike you, Mr. Wando? Think and reason farmer, and don't promise or pay more for fertilizer than you can afford, or from which there is no value received, and there certainly is none at present prices.

The guano companies claim to be offering their goods at or about cost. This we will not question, but one thing certain, they will have to lower their prices or keep their goods. Many farmers are preparing to make a crop without them while others yow they will not use the bought fertilizer unless it is sold for considerable less money. The cotton crop was sold at a sacrifice, giving about one fourth of it for guano, and now to plant another under the same circumstances is not business.

ousiness, Some are endeavoring to sell under guarnot waiting for something to turn up; taking care of the cents and the doltars will take care of themselves, and we will soon be a prosperous people.

TURKEY CREEK.

Cotton Mills on the Move—Abbeville not on the List.

Turkey Creek, S. C., Feb. 16, 1895.
Snow fell here last Monday six inches deep. Some steet and snow tell yesterday evening and last night. It looks as if this snow was going to stay with us.

We have just returned from Pelzer. The work on the new mill is progressing very well. The mill will be ready for the machinery by the first of June. The work on the dann is not going on so rapid as the weather is so disagreeable.

Abbeville county should not be behind in the cottin mill business. Laurens is falling into line and it is due time that Abbeville was coming in. Abbeville county has some of the finest water powers flowing by her eastern side as there is in the south.

It is rumored that the Pelzer Manufacturing Co., has bid twenty-nine thousand dollars on Ware's Shoals.

There is a cotton mill being built at Gaffney.

The second of the Move—Abbeville county has covers for large of a fine school at Eden, Laurens, S. C.

Mrs. Willie Bryson's school at Bellvue is in a flourishing condition. She is an excellent teacher.

Mr. G. B. McCasian requests us to thank the neighbors and friends for their many kind-nesses shown him in his recent affliction.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Robert McLane and Miss Kate Paden, of Cameron, Texas, which happy event takes place (tomorrow) the 19th, in the Presbyterian church in that city. Mr. McLane is one of our Abbeville boys, and he hasn't been slow in Climbing the ladder of success. He is a grandson of one of our honored patriarchs, Mr. Mr. David McLane, or Long Cane. The invitations are handsome, many thanks for ours, and many friends and relatives send congratuations, with best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

Co., has bid twenty-nine thousand dollars on Warc's Shoals.

There is a cotton mill being built at Gaffney, in Spartanburg county, which covers four acres of ground. There is talk of one being built at Grier's, in Greenville county. One at Walhalla and two or three are in course of construction at Greenville. Now, why should Abbeville be behind? It is known as the banner county of the State in many other things—so it is time to encourage manufacturing.

The gardens gay with flowers,
The summer's fragrant lovers,
Will know thy happy smile no more: they grieve and stand forforn;
We hear the fowls complaining,
From wonted food refraining,
No more they greet with swiftest foot thy waking evry morn.

Bad Weather-Oat Crop Killed-Death

of Mrs. Dr. Moseley. Lowndesville, S. C., Feb. 18, 1895.
On Tuesday Messrs. McCalin and Thomas moved their stock of goods from the right of Main street, to the building on the left, where the drug store was a while back.

Mr. E. R. Horton has re-opened the store on corner of Main and Bell streets.
Miss Carrie McMakin, of Spartanburg, came in Friday night in obedience to summons by telegram, because of the extreme lilness of the rousin, Mrs. J. B. Moseley.
The greater part of the oat seed sown some time ago, are lost beyond doubt. Hon. I. H. McCalia told this writer a few days ago, that he had sowed about 175 acres and there was other courseleft, to seed or e half an acre. not enough left to seed or e half an acre.

Rev. Ira B. Hicks lengthens the prediction of the local weather, up to the first of April. If he proves to be correct, then there will be but little time to be devoted to the preparabut little time to be devoted to the preparation of land, a very important factor in the making of a crop, and planting will be much deayed or very roughly done. Weatherly we are in a bad fix, financially we are in a bad fix and politically how is it? It is to be hoped that in these three directions, the darkest part of the night is just before day, and as the Augusta Chronicie says, that "the

and as the Augusta Chronicle says, that "the roosters will soon begin to crow."

Our lown has again been brought under the saddening influences of a visit from the insatiate monster, death. Last Friday about 1 p. m., Mrs. Fannie Mose y, beloved wile of Dr. J. B. Moseley passed away. The next day at 11 a. m., her funeral services, owing to the very bad weather, were performed at the Moseley House, by her pastor, Rev. E. W. Massn, assisted by Rev. Luther Link of the Presbyterian church. Quite a number of sympathizing friends, and relatives were present. Her remains were then carried to Smyrna cemetery and laid to rest. Thus ended the earthly record of one who will be greatly missed. She united herself with the Methodist church quite early in life, and from then on till the heavy hand of affliction was haid upon her, was always at her post. As wife, mother, was always at her post. As wife, mother, neighbor and friend she was ever faithful and irue. She is gone, yet we hope to meet again.
